HILL AND HAMLIN MAY CLASH TODAY

Pueblo, April 27.—On the eve of the Republican state and congress-sional conventions, a lively fight between C. C. Hamlin of Colorado Springs and Crawford Hill of Denver seems imminent. Hill wants to be delegate-at-large and Hamlin wants Clyde Devon of Canon City to have the honor. Hill is obdurate and refuses to give an inch in favor of the new ruler of El Paso, and Hamlin declares he will carry the scrap to the floor of the convention tomorrow unless he can have his way. The city is filled with prominent Republicans from all over the state.

Dislocated Democrats who kick and run away may live to kick another day.
